This Tree Was Illegally Destroyed

There is a difference of opinion as to whether the pine in Lincoln street at Ocean should have been sacrificed in the interest of traffic safety. On one hand, a pine tree rising up in the lane of traffic might be a definite hazard to a drunken driver speeding home on a foggy night. On the other hand, if all the city-owned trees that intrude into the streets and sidewalks, offering hazards to the careless or inebriated, were to be removed, about a third of the city-owned trees would be sacrificed. There's a beautiful pine in the middle of Torres near Mountain View. Note the collection of oaks and pines infringing on the right of way on Thirteenth, and the trees growing in the middle of Junipero. Start noticing—you'll find them all over town.

However, we are not concerned here with whether or not it was necessary to wise to remove our old friend at Ocean and Lincoln. The tree is gone.

What we are concerned with is the illegality of its removal. Councilman Charles Childers, in giving the order for its destruction, and Street Superintendent William Askew, in carrying out the order, are as liable to arrest for destroying a city owned tree without permission of the city council as was Walt Pilot, who was arrested, and fined, for cutting down a pine tree that was half on his property and half on city property; and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Herron, who were arrested and fined for trimming limbs off an acacia tree on the sidewalk in front of their property.

Childers told angry citizens that he had the permission of the city council to order the removal of the tree. He could not have. There is no record of it in the minutes of any meeting of the city council. Five councilmen on a tour of tree inspection, informally deciding that a pine "will have to be removed sometime before the summer traffic" are not the city council, and they may not perform an official act nor give permission to remove a tree.

The reason is obvious. Official acts must be performed at public meetings so that the public may know what the council is doing. Since the council did not vote in public meeting on the removal of this tree, the public was not informed. Had they been, we believe a good many would have offered strong objections.

A Carmel law has been violated by a city councilman and the street superintendent, a law that is dearer to the hearts of Carmel citizens than any other in the books—the tree ordinance.

It would be logical, but hardly practical, to demand of the council that it arrest Charlie Childers and Bill Askew as it did Pilot and Herron, but we believe that at least an explanation is owed the public, and assurance that the offense will not re-occur.

—Wilma Cook.

Plans Under Way For Carmel Valley Fire Department

Sponsored by the Robles del Rio Improvement Club, a fire department is being organized for the Carmel Valley, which will have a fire house at Robles del Rio with room for two fire engines, a community center to serve the entire valley, and a fire crew composed of volunteers and one paid fireman who will be on duty 24 hours a day.

George Koch, president of the Improvement Club and one of the three commissioners in charge of the fire department project, announced to The Pine Cone that they have already purchased a lot in Robles del Rio which will be the site for the fire house and the deal

SCHOOL BONDS PASS

School Bond issue for $450,000 passed four to one in Tuesday's election at Sunset School, bringing out a record vote of 1,096. Ballots cast in favor of the issue, 892; opposed 204.

A special meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held on February 4, 1947, at 1:00 p. m. in the council room of the High School to canvass the vote.

City May Have To Hold Another Election For Fire Bonds Passed In 1942

So you've passed the school bonds and can now draw a sigh of relief, forget about elections and go fishing? Better wait until next week when the decision will be given by a firm of San Francisco bond attorneys whether or not the fire bonds voted in Carmel in 1942 may still be put up for sale. If not, we'll all be out electioneering again, because there will have to be another election—for $10, 000 worth of fire bonds that have already been voted on once, and passed!

After the election in 1942, the city council then in office (P. A. McCreery, Keith Evans, Fred Godwin and the late Fred McIndoe and Bernard Rowntree) made every effort to buy the fire equipment the bonds were to provide for. But no equipment was available because the army and navy were taking it. The council, not needing the money, didn't put up the bonds for sale.

Several weeks ago, the fire department picked out the fire engine it wanted and told the council it was ready to spend its bond money, and somebody looked up the ordinance set up at the time the bonds were passed.

The ordinance provides that the issue be paid off in ten years at the rate of $1,000 per year, the first $1,000 in 1944, the second in 1945, and so on.

It's too late to sell the bonds, according to the unofficial opinion of a local attorney who refuses to be quoted because he says the law on bonds is for specialists in that field. There is a possible out—if there is some sort of war time moratorium covering such cases, is the opinion of a city official, who likewise doesn't want to be quoted.

City Attorney William Hudson has referred the matter to a firm of bond experts in San Francisco and expects a ruling on it before the city council has its regular meeting next Wednesday night.

Connie Conifer

A hoary gray old general bit the dust Monday morning, January 27, 1947. According to the rings under his eyes, I am told that he was nearly 135 years old. Too old? Not too old as far as tree age goes, but he became surrounded, and like General George Armstrong Custer, he was massacred.

I saw him fall and I heard his groans as he fell majestically and with dignity, just as he had lived. I saw three old Carmelites burst into tears, one of whom I thought never had the heart to shed a tear. Strange, the many things a tree can do!

A tender hearted woman said to me, "Well, it's for the best. He won't be missed!" I told her that he would be missed—more than ever, because when he stood there erect, challenging the careless to hit him, he rarely ever was missed! The poor fellow was always getting his shins barked. People who lived near him have told me that on quiet nights when the Pacific trades would softly blow through his fading locks he would sigh and sigh. There were times that he didn't seem to feel just right. Why should he? After all, he's been separated from his friends and made spectacle of, sworn at and bruised and abused. Even nails were driven into him, just like, well, why go farther? You know.—F. V. Randol.

CARMEL NINE IN CRUCIAL WINTER LEAGUE CLASH

With the first half pennant of the Winter League at stake, the Carmel Legion baseball team will engage the Salinas Junior College nine on the Monterey diamond next Sunday at 1:30. The contest is a natural and should draw a good crowd of rooters from both cities. Salinas holds the edge over the locals as they have defeated Carmel in their only two meetings this season. However, the Carmel squad has shown marked improvement in the last few games and vow to turn the tables on the college boys.

Gordy Miyamoto, league strike-out king, will be on the mound for Carmel, with Rip Belvail receiving the slants. This battery has been very effective in recent games and should give the Salinas swingers an interesting afternoon. Jim Hale will cover the initial sack, with Jim Kelsey and Jay Huffman forming the keystone combination. Reliable Ky Miyamoto will be at the hot corner to round out the infield. In the outer pasture Vic Marconi, Kelly Taylor, and Arch Miyamoto will hold sway.

CARMEL AND KING CITY DIVID EHQP CONTESTS

Playing on the local court last Friday night the Carmel and King City high school basketball teams each won and lost a game. The Pony lightweight five packed too much speed and accuracy for the Padre lightweights and finished on the long end of a 25-16 count. The Carmel varsity controlled the back boards effectively to outshoot the Mustangs 19 to 14. Both games were played before a packed house with a galaxy of King City rooters making the trip to encourage their boys.

The lightweight game started out rough for the Padre Babes. There was a cover on the basket and, outside of Bob Morrisseau's two pointer, there were no points scored for the local cause during the first half. King City, operating from a quick fast break, racked up 13 markers to leave the court at half-time with a 13-2 lead. The little Padres had their best quarter in the final heat when Bill Sapsis found the range for three field goals. Bill collected another field goal in the third quarter to cop high scoring honors with 8 points. Bob Morrisseau tanked two from the floor to rack up four points for the Padre cause.

Bob Barry, Dick Gargiulo, Dick Weer, Murrey Wight, and Bill Sapsis started for Carmel, with Pat Dormody, Ward Gilbert, Bob Morrisseau, and Gene Vandervoort also seeing action.

The varsity game was a low-scoring contest with lots of hard-fought action. Neither team could hit the basket with any degree of accuracy due to the rugged defensive play of both teams. Halftime found the Padres leading 9 to 7 on the strength of field goals by Mulholland, Hodges, Pitman, and Greenan. Bill Cross picked up the extra digit on a charity toss. Owen Greenan, playing his best game of the season, found a good shooting spot and dropped through three field goals during the second half. The Padre defense kept the Mustangs pretty well tied up throughout the contest and allowed only 28 shots from the floor. The rebound work of Hodges, Mulholland and Pitman gave Carmel ball control which enabled the Padres to set their own pace.

The Padre cagers welcome a bye this week so the sprained ankles and twisted knees can be given a rest. The sharpshooting Richard Templeman was missed in the King City game, as was the fine team play of Brown and Winslow. Templeman and Winslow will be ready for action in the Gonzales game.

CARMEL BOYS' CLUB BASKETBALL TEAM ORGANIZED

Neatly attired in their flashy new uniforms the Carmel Boys' Club lightweight and heavyweight basketball teams will trod the floor at Watsonville next Tuesday night when they tangle with the Watsonville club. The Boys' Club teams will give many boys an opportunity to participate in outside competition who would otherwise miss the opportunity. The Carmel boys have been practicing for the past week and look forward to their five game schedule. Besides Watsonville, the club will tackle the Monterey Boys' Club, Salinas, Pacific Grove, Santa Cruz, and Hollister.

Officer Dufur is the guiding light in back of the Boys' Club team and is instrumental in providing a schedule of games. Jim Muscutt is lending a hand with the coaching and uniforms.

Glenn Clairmonte To Read Poems To Literature Class

Next Tuesday evening at 7:30, in room 11 of Sunset School, Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte will read from her published love poems before her weekly class in current literature, under the auspices of the Carmel Adult School.

Mrs. Clairmonte's two volumes of poems, Carcassonne, published by the University of California Press at the time she was awarded the annual Cook prize, and Contours, printed by the Columbia University Press, are both out of print, and many of her poems which have appeared in periodicals have never been collected. This reading is an opportunity which will not be repeated, and everybody who sympathizes with young love is invited to attend.

Each Tuesday for several months Mrs. Clairmonte has introduced to this class some important writer or artist, as a guest speaker, and the informal gatherings have become increasingly popular. This is the only time that any of Mrs. Clairmonte's own work will be presented.

CLOTHING DRIVE

Conveniently, Carmel's clothing drive for devastated areas in Europe and Asia comes at spring cleaning time. The clothing drive opens Saturday, February 1, and continues for two weeks. Boxes will be placed outside the post office, where all contributions will be left. All clothing is welcomed, particularly shoes and men's clothing.

The drive is sponsored by the Carmel P. T. A. and is under the general direction of Mrs. M. L. Deissler. All clothing collected during the drive will be distributed immediately by the American Friends' Service Committee wherever it is needed.

If anyone has clothing to contribute to the drive and is unable to get it to the post office, a call to 2208-W, Mrs. M. L. Deissler, will bring a car to collect the clothing.

Maggie Teyte Offers Thrilling Program Of French Songs

Maggie Teyte, brilliant English soprano, will sing at Sunset Auditorium Wednesday evening, February 5.

Her success was sensational when she returned to America in 1946, after a prolonged absence. Famous in other years for her performance of many operatic roles, Teyte now devotes herself to the interpretation of French songs. No other artist living can evoke so authentically and vividly the epoch of Debussy, Ravel and Faure. For nine months she worked three hours daily under the direction of Debussy.

Maggie Teyte's only singing master was Jean de Reszke; to him she gives all credit for her unflinching accuracy of pitch and voice-production. Her program, given below, promises an evening of sheer delight.

Mehul, "N'avoir jamais qu'une pensee" (Le Tresor Suppose); Dourlen, "Je sais attacher les rubans"; Garat, Dans le printemps de mes annees; Pergolesi, Air de Zerbine (La Servante Maitresse).

Debussy, La Lettre de Genevieve (Pelleas et Melisande), Beau Soir, La Flute de Pan, La chevelure, Chevaux de Bois.

Faure, Lydia, Nell, Ici-bas, Belle lune d'argent (Bonne Chanson), Dans les ruines d'une Abbaye.

Delius, Irmelin; Bizet, Chanson d'Avril; Fevrier, L'Intruse; de Falla, Seguidilla.

Creation Is Emotion Distilled Into Truth—Varda

Emotion and creation, standing at opposite poles to each other, are the two most important things in life, and neither can exist without the other, Jean Varda told the Carmel Adult School class in modern literature in his talk on the Creative Spirit last Tuesday night. Jean Varda, well-known painter, described this creative spirit as a process of alchemy which transforms the raw materials of emotion into something new, which is creation. The object, or work of art, thus created is emotion condensed and distilled into truth, it is never a mere recording of what has happened. This distillation Jean Varda calls "the myth."

The created object of art may be a painting, a poem, a letter, a needlework pillow, or simply a way of life. But those in whom this spirit does not operate between the two poles of emotion and creation, find their lives inexplicably lacking in something.

Mr. Varda illustrated his interpretation of the creative spirit with numerous amusing incidents, told with the rich humor, the verve and enthusiasm that make him such a stimulating speaker.

The class in modern literature meets again next Tuesday evening at 7:30 in room 11 at Sunset School, under the direction of Glenn Clairmont.

Debate On Russia At Sunset Sunday

Two of the most brilliant and popular speakers in the United States will arrive in Carmel next Sunday, February 2, to meet on the stage of the Sunset School auditorium at three o'clock to thresh out the vitally important question, Can Russia Be Part of 'One World.' H. R. Knickerbocker, a Texan, whose reporting for the International News Service has taken him to every part of the globe, and kept him in the front lines of World War II, will argue that Russia is a despotic power, aiming world conquest. Walter Duranty, born in Liverpool, will boldly dispute this viewpoint, equipped with fact-based findings gathered from eleven years in Moscow as foreign correspondent for the New York Times.

Col. Allen Griffin will act as moderator and chairman, introducing the speakers and receiving questions from the open forum which will follow the debate. Two loud speakers will insure perfect audibility all over the auditorium.

Unhappy Marriage Given As Reason For Embezzlement

Using her unhappy marriage as a partial excuse for embezzling $10,337.96 from the Bank of Carmel over a period of three years, Mrs. Florence E. Volkers pleaded guilty on a charge of misapplication of funds and false entries in the Federal District Court in San Francisco Tuesday.

Her attorney, William Orrick, Jr., asked Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman to grant probation on the plea that she had been motivated to take the money because of her unhappy marriage to Jack Volkers, from whom she received her final divorce decree January 18. Mrs. Volkers had made full restitution of the money, he told the court.

Judge Goodman allowed Mrs. Volkers to remain free on $1000 bail and referred the case to Probation Officer Charles Upton. February 11 has been set for the date of sentence.

Mrs. Volkers had been a cashier at the Bank of Carmel for 17 years and was in charge of the loan department. Earlier it was stated that she told FBI authorities she had used the money for real estate investments, speculation on the stock markets, and living expenses.

Day Co. Publishing Marjorie Sinclair's First Novel, Kona

Kona, a first novel about Hawaii by Marjorie Sinclair, will be published on February 13 by the John Day Company, according to word received here this week by her brother, Frank Putnam, of Putnam and Raggett. Marjorie Sinclair, who has lived in Hawaii for ten years where her husband, Gregg M. Sinclair, is president of the University of Hawaii, has been a frequent visitor in Carmel and spent last summer with the Putnams at their home on Fifth and Perry Newberry Way.

Particularly interested in racial problems, Mrs. Sinclair has previously published numerous articles on the subject of racial relations in Hawaii in such magazines as Asia, but Kona is her first novel. Pearl Buck, one of the reviewers, expressed the opinion that it was the best first novels she had ever read.

A graduate of Mills College, Mrs. Sinclair received her M. A. from the University of Hawaii, and since her marriage to Gregg Sinclair has made the islands her permanent home except for yearly summer visits to Carmel.

Pine Cone Poem Reprinted In Tribune

The Pine Cone is developing a sincere respect for Oakland Tribune Columnist Ad Schuster's good taste and judgment. He frequently reprints in his column, The Other Fellow, poems from The Pine Cone poetry column. Moreover, he gives due credit to The Pine Cone on these occasions, which indicates he's a gentleman as well as a scholar.

Schuster's latest choice for reprint is Dora Hagemeyer's poem that appeared on page one of The Pine Cone New Year's edition.

Dr. Stebbins Here Writing Book, Conducting Experimental Work On Forage Grasses In Carmel Valley

BY ROSALIND SHARPE

Dr. G. Ledyard Stebbins Jr., plant geneticist, who has recently returned from the Princeton Bi-Centennial Conference on Genetics, Paleontology and Evolution, and a series of Jesup lectures at Columbia on Plant Evolution, is writing a book on the subject of his lectures at his Carmel home on Monte Verde street before returning to the University of California where he is Associate Professor of Genetics in the College of Agriculture. The book will be published by the Columbia University Press.

For several years, Dr. Stebbins has been occupied with producing better grasses for the cattle and sheep ranges, carrying on his experimental work in Carmel Valley.

"There is a great need for new grasses in the interior valleys," Dr. Stebbins said.

There is a serious grazing problem due to the fact that as soon as the rain stops the grasses dry up and leave the cattle without nutritious range feed until the rainy season comes on again. This is because European annual grasses crowded out California native perennials very early in the history of the state, and the annuals dry up quickly.

Cattle ranges in California, he explained, have been very heavily grazed during the last 100 years. Prior to the appearance of the white man, only the deer cropped the grass, but cattle and sheep were brought in by the Mission Padres. Grazing was probably much more intensive than at present.

European annual grass seeds brought to California accidentally through grain or stuck in the tails and manes of livestock took root, and because of their greater viability in comparison to native perennial grasses, soon replaced them. Annuals are not found except where the land has been disturbed by grazing, Dr. Stebbins emphasized. Now the most common grasses in California are European annuals, such as wild oats, rip gut brome, fox tails, etc.

"If you take a grazed area in the interior valleys," Dr. Stebbins said, "And fence it in and stop all grazing, you find that the native grasses do not come back. They are not adapted to animal grazing, and they are not adapted to competition with European species. The European annuals grow very fast, have large seeds, which spread and survive easily, and are vigorous. However, when the rain stops, they dry up and go to seed. Many of the seeds are noxious and harmful to animals, such as the fox-tail and ripgut. On the other hand native perennials always have a new green growth underneath the taller dry grass in the summer-time, so grazing animals are able to get green grass throughout the year.

"We want to restore perennial grasses but not necessarily native perennials. Our object is to produce new species of grasses that will live through the summer, and, by controlled grazing, keep green a little longer in spring. Also they will green faster in the fall and the volume of grass will be greater."

Other people working in the same field in cooperation with Dr. Stebbins are Professors R. M. Love of Davis and Burle Jones of the Extension Division of the University of California. There is also work with experimental planting stations being done by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the Forest Service. Stebbins' job is to create the new species, while the other agencies will do the planting.

They hope to combine the best features of both grasses—i.e., annual and perennial—such as the greater toughness and large seeds of the annuals and the year-around greenness of the perennials.

One of the Dr. Stebbins' most important laboratories is in the Carmel Valley, where he has made experimental plantings in cooperation with local ranchers at various climatic levels.

"We are taking native perennials and crossing them with each other, or with species from South America or the Arizona desert. We might cross perennials by annuals, and are trying both methods. It's a hit or miss proposition at the present time.

"I can't say, however," Dr. Stebbins added hastily, "That the solution of the problem will give green grass all the year around. It may be a life-time job. We have produced 30 to 40 hybrid combinations in the laboratories at Berkeley which are sterile now, but we will treat them with chemicals and make them fertile. I am counting on the Carmel area for this type of experimental work. The Carmel Valley is my most important experimental laboratory because it differs from other valleys in that the mountains run perpendicular to the sea instead of parallel, contrary to most coastal valleys, with the result that as one

Getting Around The Peninsula

Valley zoning is taking definite steps towards becoming a reality. A month ago, 15 valley residents signed a petition which they submitted to the Monterey County Planning Commission asking that the county protect them against "undesirable intrusions" of business establishments, signs, and billboards. Last Monday, at the regular monthly meeting of the Monterey County Planning Commission, pros and cons were discussed, and Carmel Martin, chairman, proposed that a letter be sent out to all valley inhabitants to get their views on the proposed zoning of the entire valley.

If a majority are in favor of zoning, the Planning Commission will be in a position to take definite steps and make a survey of the entire Carmel Valley with specific recommendations as to how and where it shall be zoned.

Mrs. M. B. Mason of Berwick Orchards was the only one present at the meeting to speak from the floor against zoning. She declared that the people who spoke in favor of zoning were newcomers, and made a counter proposal that drinking establishments in the valley be closed.

Those who signed the petition requesting zoning were B. A. Jones, Clara A. Brownell, Catherine R. Stewart, Andrew Stewart, James C. Doud, Donald Clappett, Clyde C. Call, Harold O. Sand, William D. Wood, Corum Jackson, C. E. Holman, Glenn Foster, Herbert W. Brownell, Louise B. Mathiot, Luis F. Wolter, Martha W. Wolter, W. J. Chittering, Floyd MacFarlane and Mrs. J. L. Porter.

At least half of the petitioners are old-time valley residents. However, nothing definite can be decided until the letter from the Monterey County Planning Commission is circulated amongst valley residents to discover whether a majority of them are in favor of it.

The coast section south of Carmel including the Big Sur district has been zoned since the time the highway was completed. The result has been that no ugly billboards, enormous, brilliantly painted or flagrant signs, or cheap, undesirable business establishments have appeared to mar the beauty of the landscape.

Tourists driving down the coast road have declared it to be the most beautiful in the world. Perhaps the most compelling reason for their admiration is the lack of the cheap commercialism found on most other state highways.

The Monterey County Planning

Commission has allowed businesses to go up, but has kept out unattractive architecture. They have allowed business signs of an artistic type, but have kept out the billboards and bright painted commercial advertisements. Reasonable requests have always been granted to coast residents by the Planning Commission, but they have kept up a strict guard against anything that would interfere with the natural and spectacular beauty of the coast highway.

People who have driven up the valley during the last few months have been worried for fear the whole valley might turn into a city, without the beautiful fields, farm houses and pastoral landscapes to which they are accustomed. Unrestricted business in the Carmel Valley, it is feared locally as well as by valley residents, might destroy its beauty altogether and turn it into just another road.

When the 2nd Special Engineer Brigade which had been stationed at Fort Ord and Morro Bay since last June received orders Saturday to proceed to Fort Worden, Washington, it was learned that their commanding officer, Brig. Gen. D. A. D. Ogden was to remain indefinitely at Fort Ord as post commander.

General Ogden commanded the 3rd Engineer Brigade overseas during the war, and upon his return to the states took command of the 2nd Engineer Brigade. The brigade, which will leave shortly for Washington, will be turned over to Col. Eugene M. Caffee, formerly with the amphibious training unit in San Diego.

3rd Annual Science Series Opens Monday With Bolin Lecture

At Recreation Hall, Monterey High School February 3, at 8:00 p. m., Dr. Rolf L. Bolin, Assistant Director of the Hopkins Marine Station at Pacific Grove will open the Third Annual Life Science Series with a lecture on Seashore Oddities.

Dr. Bolin's lecture will be illustrated with living marine animals, a collection of preserved specimens and a motion picture, Seashore Oddities, in natural kodachrome color.

Two years ago the life science series, under the direction of Ferdinand Ruth, Pacific Grove High School science instructor, was presented for the first time at Pacific Grove high school in connection with the adult school program. Its popularity was such that the series was given in Carmel the following year. This winter, Monterey adult school is the sponsor. Nature lovers and students from all over the peninsula are welcome, and there is no admission charge. None of the material will repeat that presented in the previous seasons.

Here is the program:

February 3: Dr. Rolf L. Bolin, assistant director, Hopkins Marine Station of Stanford University. Seashore Oddities, with living and preserved marine specimens on display. Kodachrome motion picture of Seashore Oddities.

February 10: Dr. Ralph A. Smith, professor of zoology, San Jose State College. Wild animals in Our Midst, with living specimens of local mammals as well as a collection of mammal study skins. Kodachrome motion pictures Realm of the Wild and Kangaroo Rat.

February 17: Dr. Earl H. Myers, renowned research scientist in the field of protozoology. Fishing for Fun and Food with preserved collection of fish. Illustrated with fine charts and kodachrome films Underwater Spearfishing and Boats and Fishermen of Arctic and Tropics.

February 24: Mr. Ferdinand S. Ruth, biology instructor, Pacific Grove High School. Snakes Alive and Other Reptiles, with exhibit of living reptiles of Monterey County. Motion pictures: Snapping Turtle, Mongoose versus Cobra, Reptiles.

March 3: Dr. Carl D. Duncan, professor of zoology, San Jose State College. Monterey Peninsula Wild Flowers with exhibit of local specimens of flowering plants. Films: Time Lapse Studies of Flowers, Northwest in Bloom, Flowers at Work.

March 28: Mr. Allan D. Cruickshank, (Friday—note day and date) National Audubon Society speaker and outstanding outdoor photographer. South Along the Suwanee with all color film. Allan Cruickshank brings you a vivid color story of outdoor life along the Suwanee. Tracing the river from its source in the land of the trembling earth, Okefinokee, revealing its wealth of scenic beauty; pictures its alligators, birds, insects, flowers.

Clara Taft

With the recent passing of Miss Clara Maxwell Taft, Carmel has lost one of its most beloved old-time residents. When a rare spirit is taken from our midst we are all deprived. It is a loss which cannot be replaced.

Miss Taft came to Carmel to live about twenty-eight years ago. She bought the home of John Galen Howard on Monte Verde street and called it Redwood Pickets. She lived there many years enjoying the peace and beauty of early Carmel, loving the pines and the chaparral so deeply that she kept her property in its natural state and refused to plant a formal garden. Carmel was a release from the conventional life of the city and the many duties she so gladly performed there as an active member of the Episcopal Church and of several literary clubs. Moreover, she was the center of a large family of nieces and nephews, the beloved aunt to whom all joys and griefs were referred. Her father was head of the firm of Taft and Penoyer of Oakland, and her family had its roots deep in the early history of that city.

About ten years ago Miss Christie Taft bought the charming home with the blue shutters on Carmelo Road, which she has lived in ever since. Its sunny garden of daffodils and spring flowers made it a landmark on the river road. Here she lived simply and quietly with her books and her writing, sharing her life with her friends and ready at any moment to fly to the assistance of any member of her family who should need her help; for she had that rare gift, the talent for active friendship.

As a poet, Miss Taft should be known more widely than she is. Her poems have appeared in several well-known periodicals from time to time but they have never been published in book form. They contain the essence of her personality, being sound and full of subtle wisdom and at the same time rayed through with wit and mischief. They twinkle as well as shine. They are like their author, so secure in their deep integrity that they dare to be merry even while dealing with the gravest subjects. They unite dignity and humor, the darkest theme is shot through with sunlight. To accomplish this both in poetry and in life is truly an achievement. Miss Taft will long be remembered with deep affection in this community—D. H.

No Need to Increase Your State Gasoline Tax!

STATE HAS ENOUGH MONEY TO BUILD NEW ROADS
WITHOUT INCREASED TAXES!

The Oil Industry believes:

California highways must lead the rest of the nation.

New highways must be built.

Our highways must be kept repaired.

But facts show that it isn't necessary to increase your gasoline tax to accomplish these objectives.

READ CAREFULLY:

1. Highway funds now available
total ..... $140,000,000
2. During the next four years total highway revenue from all sources will add to the fund $528,000,000
This totals ..... $668,000,000
3. Expenditures during this period (repairs, new roads and including the projected State super highways) will cost an estimated ..... $633,000,000
4. This will leave a surplus of $ 35,000,000

In other words, all major improvements in California highways during the next four years will still leave a multimillion-dollar surplus in the highway fund without raising taxes.

The Big Question is: Why does the State want additional hundreds of millions of dollars of YOUR MONEY during the next four years?

How will the money be used?

Before our gasoline sales tax is doubled (or even increased), every citizen in California has a right to know in detail where his money is going.

Right now a special session of the California legislature is considering this tax increase. There is no time to lose.

Express your views on this important matter. Write today to your Assemblyman and State Senator. Address him: State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

A 3c stamp can save you 3c a gallon for years to come!

Western Oil and Gas Association

"There is no apparent reason why the State gasoline tax should be doubled, or even increased. The Western Oil and Gas Association challenges the advocates of higher taxes to refute with detail the facts here presented."

Hi Chatter

By MARY GREGORY

Well, the great day has finally arrived, for today marks the end of the first semester. Those ill-starred things — report cards — come out Monday, but since that day also ushers in a brand new semester, things aren't too bad.

All in all this last semester has been a very memorable one. Many popular new clubs have been formed, there has been more time for extra-curricular activities because of the activity periods; the new system of administration has been greatly appreciated by all, and the retiring student body officials, President Jim Snively, Vice-President Perry Brown, Secretary Mary Gregory, Commissioners Bob Barry, Sue Moore, "Ginger" Klein, Richard Templeman, Victor Harber and Joanne Gorham, and the eight class representatives can be proud of a job well done. Great strides forward have been made in the organization of the student body, thanks largely to the efforts of Jim and to the interest and help of Mr. Leo Harris.

At an assembly today the new student body officers will be sworn in. They are Bob Morrisseau, president; Bob Bell, vice-president; Susan Moore, secretary; Phil Wettengel, commissioner of boys' athletics; Carmelita Fortier, commissioner of girls' athletics; Peggy Riker, commissioner of community affairs, and Mary Gregory, commissioner of social activities. Joanne and Richard will retain their jobs as commissioners—in which capacity each is doing excellently.

The senior class has honored Sue Dekker with its presidency for its last and most important term. Max Hodges was elected vice-president, Ed Stetson, secretary, and Don Day, treasurer.

John Blinks is the choice of the junior class for president; Basil Allaire is vice-president, Betty Plaxton, secretary, and Curtiss Gorham, treasurer.

Incidentally, John made the highest number of points on the "Quiz of the Schools" program last Saturday, so will be back to compete in the finals. Tomorrow Ann Fratessa and Graham Grande will meet the two Monterey and two Pacific Grove contestants at 10:30 on KDON.

Sophomore and freshman class officers are being elected today and will be announced next week.

Eighth grade officers are Al Green, president; Dorothea Burke, vice-president; Barbara Berg, secretary, and Gerry Robinson, treasurer.

Other new officers for the coming semester are: For the Block C, Perry Brown, Lew McCreery and Owen Greenan; for the G. A. A., Larry Harris, Roberta Roberts, Joy Westcott, and Eleanor Bannerman; for the Radio Club, John Chitwood, Richard Rhea, and Harry Watson; for the Latin Club, Elton Clark, Shirley Petty, and Laurel Hildebrand, and for the Chess Club, Helen Prosser and Beverly Dowgiallo.

The Bell Laboratories presented a very interesting and entertaining assembly last Friday consisting of demonstrations of various war inventions and developments of the laboratories. Among the many interesting things shown was an electrical stethoscope which proved conclusively that Mr. Leon Min-ear has a heart.

The first round of the girls' speedball tournament ended Friday with the unbeaten seniors victorious, and the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen tied for second place with one win and two losses each. Those on the senior team are Larry Harris, (captain), Sue Dekker, Joan Carr, Diane Tait, Sue Douglas, Teddy Greene, Joanne Gorham, Dagmar Drier, and Mary Gregory, although once a game was won with only four players against a full team of freshmen. Captains for the other teams are Betty Goulart for the juniors; Louise Harber for the sophomores, and June Updike for the Freshmen. Betty Plaxton is the speedball manager. The second round will be played next week, with the winners of each competing for the championship.

Public Invited To P.T.A. School Health Conference

A community conference on welfare and health, sponsored by the Carmel Parent-Teachers' Association and the Carmel High School faculty and patrons, will be held Tuesday evening, February 4, at 8 o'clock in the cafeteria of the high school. The meeting will take the place of the February P. T. A. meeting. The public is invited to attend.

Mr. Verne S. Landreth, chief of the division of health and physical education and recreation for California, will present his views on the part played by recreation in the total school health program, with emphasis on community recreation.

Dr. Bernice Moss, consultant in health education for the state department of education, will discuss the total health program of Carmel schools as it compares with the state health program.

Time will be allowed at the end of the program for discussion and questions, and following the meeting refreshments will be served.

The Carmel high school orchestra will make its first public appearance with a program beginning at 7:45 before the opening of the meeting and will play in addition several numbers during the pauses in the meeting. The musical program will be under the direction of Mr. John Farr, head of the high school music department.

Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 the faculties of the Carmel schools will meet in a round table discussion with Dr. Moss to examine and discuss health problems in the schools. Due to this meeting both schools will be dismissed at 1:40 on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Fred Holmes entertained at a buffet luncheon at their home in Big Sur Tuesday in honor of their house guest, Mrs. John Lawler of San Francisco.

James Bertram

James Augustus Bertram died Monday morning in a local hospital at the age of 52. After a strenuous life as a lumberman, hewing out redwood, splitting shakes and cutting firewood, he developed heart trouble and moved to Carmel a couple of years ago.

Previously he had lived in the Palo Colorado for eight years with his former wife, Madeleine, and her five children, but moved to the Carmel Highlands shortly after the war, where he carried on his lumber business until failing health forced him to abandon it.

A native of Arkansas, he first came to this part of the country in 1933.

He is survived by his sister, Mrs. Howard Earle of Ashland, Oregon. Funeral arrangements, in charge of T. A. Dorney, are pending.

INVITATION TO SKIING

by Fred Iselin of SUN VALLEY, internationally known teacher, coach, and champion — and A. C. Sectorsky writer, editor, and amateur skier.

This book teaches skiing under whatever conditions may be encountered — on packed slopes, in deep, untracked snow, on downhill runs or cross-country trails — the ability to stop, turn, climb, reduce or increase speed at will. More than 175 photographs and diagrams illustrate every single move and maneuver clearly described in the text. Also Ski Map of America included. $3.00

WHEREON TO STAND What Catholics Believe and Why

by John Gilland Brunini

"This book is a masterpiece of exposition. It is a work at once of sound scholarship and true Christian spirit. As a statement of the Roman Catholic position in religion, it is as complete as it is enlightening. To those who would know exactly what our Catholic brethren believe and why, Mr. Brunini's book is the perfect answer." John Haymes Holmes. 3.00

THE HANDS OF VERONICA, by Fannie Hurst

Fannie Hurst has caught in this novel the bewilderment of an average person who suddenly is forced to live a public life, who has to serve others before herself. This is a completely different Fannie Hurst. She is still the storyteller, still the unusually fine spiritual quality. 2.75

TOUCHED WITH FIRE

Civil War Letters and Diary of Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr. Edited by Mark DeWolfe Howe.

Here is a book which will profoundly interest not only the large and growing public who want to know all about one of the greatest Americans, but all who are concerned with Civil War military history. The volume is made up of all the Civil War letters to his parents which Justice Holmes possessed and the complete text of the only Civil War diary which was found among his personal papers. 3.00

MODERN WOMAN:

The Lost Sex

by Ferdinand Lundberg and Marynia Farnham, M.D.

What is wrong with modern woman? What has happened to her that she is today, in overwhelming numbers, dissatisfied, restless, unhappy to the point of neuroticism? This book has a background of historical, social and clinical fact that buttresses firmly the author's unorthodox conclusions and startling findings. Although its conclusions are optimistic, this is admittedly a controversial book. $3.50

Del Monte

The Rev. Theodore Bell
Chaplain

St. John's Chapel is a beautiful little church nestling in a grove of giant oak trees. Men and women from many lands have found it to be a place apart. It may be that you also will find its atmosphere congenial to the spiritual life. The Chapel is open all day long. Those who seek in its stillness to grow more conscious of God's presence do not go unrewarded.

Sunday services at eight and eleven a.m. The Chapel is close to Hotel Del Monte.

THE MORMONS

A few days ago I read in our science period about gulls. A long, long time ago there came to this land, some people called Mormons. They had with them just enough food to last them one year. They planted corn and wheat and other things.

Everything looked very hopeful, when a farmer found some black crickets were eating all their crops.

The Mormons dug trenches to trap the crickets, but it was of no use. Almost giving up, the Mormons prayed, for they were very religious people. They prayed to God for some miracle to happen.

God must have heard them for some time later the Mormons saw gulls. The gulls came down and ate all the crickets.

These people were so thankful that they made a monument in honor of the gulls. It is the only monument made in honor of birds.

You will find this monument in Salt Lake City in Utah.

—Linda Cass.

Our room is studying about the state and national parks of California. We have learned about Yosemite, Lassen, General Grant, Sequoia, Big Sur, and many others. It was fun.

We have a large map of California that we can write in these names.—Phyllis Burnett.

In social studies lately, we have been learning all we can about the counties of California. We are making maps of salt, flour, and water. When they are dry we paint them the color they are on the big California map. Then we pin them on the bulletin board.

—Patrick Grimshaw.

Before Christmas vacation each person in our class wrote a business letter to a county they wanted to study. After the vacation we received a great deal of mail. It has helped a lot in learning more about our own state.

MY DREAMS

At night when I am in bed,
With a soft pillow under my head
I float away to the land of dreams,
Of candy canes and chocolate
creams,

And lollypops and cup cakes,
Bubble gum and milk shakes.
Then all of a sudden a fairy queen
Startles me by calling "Christine!"
And then I awaken with a jump,
But it's only mother telling me to get up.—Christine Conley.

SUMMER

Summer is coming soon
Then I'll go to the beach
To watch the water reach
White fingers against the shore.
—Bonnie Vandervort.

HORSES

Horses gallop down the hill
Their hoofs make a galloping
sound,
I try to catch them
As they bound away.
Up the hillside and down
You still hear that thundering
sound
Up the hill and down.

—Joann Leslie.

UP IN THE AIR

I go up in the air so high,
Up in the clear blue sky,
And then when I come down
I begin to look around.
Then I go up again and again,
And begin to turn and spin.
Before I know what is happening
I've made a perfect landing!

Young 1947 arrived wearing working togs, with his sleeves rolled up. He found a muscle-bulging job ahead of him . . . in construction, increased business and industrial expansion.

He found nearly 9,000,000 residents in California, including more than a million new workers who came West with the war-time growth of industry. They are staying in California because industrial expansion is continuing. P. ## Have You Read . . . ?

By EDWARD O. SISSON

Dorothy Erskine: RUSSIA'S STORY.
(Crowell. 1946. Pp. 154. $2.50.)

"There are many ways to begin the story of Russia. A good way to start is with their circus. In Soviet Russia a circus is not very different from one here." Then come the details — the crown, the tightrope-walker, the spangled lady tiptoeing on the galloping horse, acrobats, elephants, 'n' everything! And of course, most important of all, little Russian boys and girls shouting their joy. Moreover we learn a striking fact, the "Barnum" of Russia, named Durov, including grandfather, father and now sons, have provided circus for Russia since long before the gigantic Revolution of 1917; when almost everything else crashed, the circus weathered the storm; everybody was for it, old and young.

The serious comment on this gay start comes at the foot of page 2. "If one followed these different peoples back to their original homes in the far corners of Soviet Russia, one would discover that Americans have more in common with them than the circus . . . those common things which are shared by people everywhere." Which recalls an incident told of lovable and very human Charles Lamb, who blurted out, when a certain man was mentioned, "I hate that man!" "Why," said his friend, "I didn't know you even knew him." "I don't know him," said Lamb, "and I don't want to know him; you can't hate a man you know." Believing as I do that if the world is to escape another impending disaster, we Americans and the people of Soviet Russia must at least not hate each other, and should on the contrary feel friendship for each other, I wish every American might read this delightful and rewarding book; not only the young for whom it is directly intended, but all of us. I am far from young myself, and have read it with joy and edification.

It is the life of the people that Mrs. Erskine reveals to us. "In Soviet Russia and in America there are mothers and fathers and a home. There is need to earn a living. There are wars and misfortunes. . . . The moon comes up at night. Food tastes good. A mile feels just as long to walk in Soviet Russia as in America." But: "There are differences, of course — fascinating differences. How do people build a house . . . without stone or wood? How do they keep warm in sub-zero Arctic without coal or petroleum or forests to burn? How do they manage about rivers that perversely run into seas without outlets or into oceans that are frozen most of the year? Some of the answers come from their geography . . . their long and interesting history . . . everyday living. . . . These facts are essential for a modern American to have, the world being what it is. The differences are not baffling if, underneath, there is the feeling that the Russians are very human."

You see that this book is a reviewer's dream. You simply turn a page and type down the passages you have already marked, which tell the reader far better than you could with words of your own what the book is about and why you must read it. There is a big fly in this lovely ointment—you hate to leave anything out, and both author and publisher might not like a complete reprint; even if the editor of The Pine Cone might demur to that! In any case I haven't found a chapter, a page or even a sentence that is not rewarding.

So one with the sampling. Chapter II is "The Land they live in," a continent indeed, almost two continents; six great belts all the way from arctic "tundra," frozen five feet deep all the year; "taiga" or forest; black-soil belt, three thousand miles of it; grassland or "steppe," like our Texas, Wyoming, Nevada; desert, where the rainfall drops to ten inches or less; and finally, mountains. Oh yes, and all this is marvelously illustrated by drawings and maps, half realistic and half symbolic, telling the story over geographically. In fact, lest I forget to mention it, the whole

GIVE ME THE STARS

*The prodigal and patient sun
Bestows impersonally;
I blush to feel the need of one
Who feels no need of me.*

*The moon steps off the mountain-top
To wander in the air,
And on humanity lets drop
Her pale indifferent stare.*

*But I have known a star to push
Exultant through a cloud,
Light breathless in my lilac bush,
And shine almost aloud.*

—CLARA MAXWELL TAFT

TO LIVE IS SOMETHING

*I draw my quilt
Close to my chin,
And bid the dark
To fold me in.*

*Slumber, my sorrow,
Sleep, my pain;
What though the dawn
Rouse you again?*

*Better to wake
And weep, than laugh
Unheard beneath
An epitaph.*

—C. M. T.

CITY NEIGHBORS

*Her house rubs close against my own,
Granite cheek to cheek of stone;
She and I, like a groom and bride,
Sleep through the darkness, side by side.
Yet ever we build, from day to day,
Two separate lives, a wall away;
And ever we sumber, unaware,
Side by side like a bridal pair.*

—C. M. T.

PEACE

*Peace has come to me,
How, I cannot tell.
It has left me toneless
As a broken bell;
It has left me pulseless
As a frozen sea . . .
Peace, you had no right
To enter into me!*

—C. M. T.

book is enriched by pictures both jolly to look at and most enlightening.

And the people: "In this heartland of a continent almost 200 nations dwell . . . how many languages? . . . Some authorities list 150. . . . Textbooks for the schools are written in 75 languages. . . . Take even the lowest figure and it is still quite a choice to have fifty words for dog or cat, fifty ways of saying mother or father. . . . The Russian people are only one among these national groups; but, because they total three-fourths of the population . . . their name is often loosely used to cover the whole union."

Chapter III is history. Genghis Khan . . . "leader of the unlettered herdmen, thought in terms of horses as a modern general thinks in terms of airplanes . . . mobilized over a million horses . . . learned how to get speed and distance out of them . . . whipped through the known world and conquered all but a little fringe of Europe . . . cut the Russians off from the rest of Europe and made them part of the Asiatic culture of that time." Moscow—"Russia as a modern nation grew out of one city, Moscow . . . the center of a crown of rivers like a spider in the center of a web." Then Ivan the Great . . . Ivan the Terrible . . . who conquered the Mongols and ousted them from control. And Peter the Great, founder and planner of modern Russia, who gets eight pages, crowded with action, and deserves it. Serfdom . . . fur-trade . . . Alaska.

Chapter IV is history too, and how! "The Revolution of 1917." But it is as factual as a doctor's dissertation (should be) and as uncolored by emotional bias. So is the next chapter, even more susceptible to distortion by bias, "Their Government—the Business State." These defy sampling or abridgement and must just be read; less than twenty pages in all. But they are an indispensable part of the clear-cut and well-ordered account of Russia's Story.

Chapter VI, "Where their plans lead them," might well be classed with the preceding two. Let one sample serve; schools and children in schools; in 1915, just prior to the Revolution, after all the centuries of czarist rule, two million pupils; in 1946, after less than thirty years of the new regime, and in spite of almost ceaseless wars, forty million. There are other enormous advances and expansions, in steel, in food products, in mechanized industry, in hospitals and health activities, but the top place is occupied by the expansions of schools and learning.

The remaining five chapters take up again the everyday life of people, transportation, Arctic life, life on the steppes, in Moscow, on a farm. Full of vivid detail, exhibiting always likenesses and differences, but always human and moving.

Finally, the author is keenly aware, and I think I may add deeply troubled over the present rigid totalitarian character of the USSR, and the "iron curtain" shutting Russia in and the rest of the world out. But this very condition is the ground for my own urgent recommendation of this book, with its human realism, its moving presentation of life as lived by common people, so like ourselves in essentials and so interestingly different in details. Is it possible, and very promising, that one "cannot hate a people one knows"?

ORDINANCE NO. 68 N.S.

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTIONS 1010 TO 1013, ARTICLE 7, SECTION 1014, ARTICLE 8 AND SECTION 1015, ARTICLE 9, DIVISION 1, PART X OF THE ORDINANCE CODE OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-SEA.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-SEA DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. Sections 1010 to 1013, Article 7, Section 1014, Article 8 and Section 1015, Article 9, Division 1, Part X of the Ordinance Code of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea are hereby amended to read as follows:

"ARTICLE 7. BOARD OF ADJUSTMENTS, ITS FUNCTIONS AND POWERS.

Section 1010. A Board of Adjustments is hereby established. The word "Board" when used in this Code shall be construed to mean the Board of Adjustments.

The Board shall consist of the members of the Planning Commission of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea as said Commission is now or may hereafter be constituted. The chairman and secretary of the Planning Commission shall be the chairman and secretary respectively of the Board. It shall meet at the call of the chairman or any two members of the Board and shall keep full minutes of all meetings and complete records of all its examinations, findings and other official actions, together with a record of all facts pertinent to the cases submitted for its approval.

Before any permit is approved for any adjustment or use, the Board shall carefully examine all pertinent facts relating to the case under consideration and shall find:

(1) that the granting of a permit will not adversely affect the general zoning plan of the city;

(2) that the character of the neighborhood will not be adversely affected;

(3) that there are special circumstances connected with the case wherein strict adherence to the ordinance would inflict undue hardship upon the applicant or the use or adjustment requested is trivial and unobjectionable and is a reasonable liberty to allow the property owner under existing conditions.

In considering adjustment and use permits, the Board shall exercise its powers in such a way that public welfare is secured and substantial justice done in accordance with the intent and purpose of this ordinance. It may, when approving the issuance of permits, impose such conditions as it may deem necessary to maintain such intent and purpose.

Section 1011. The Board shall have the power:

(a) To determine its procedure when such is not expressly set forth herein.

(b) To interpret the meaning of Division 1, Part X of this Code when the meaning thereof is not clear and in such connection to require a legal opinion by the City Attorney when deemed necessary or desirable.

(c) To hear and decide appeals where it is alleged that there is error in any order, requirement, decision or determination made by the Building Inspector of City Clerk in the administration of this Division. The affirmative vote of at least five (5) members of the Board shall be required to take action under Subsection (c) of this Section.

(d) To determine district boundaries where the actual street layout varies from that shown on the zoning map or where there is a question as to the exact location of district boundaries.

(e) To determine which is the front and which are the side lines of irregularly shaped building sites.

Section 1012. In order to prevent or lessen unnecessary hardships or practical difficulties where it is exceptionally difficult or not absolutely necessary to comply with the strict letter of Division 1, Part X of this Code, the Board shall have the power to approve the issuance of adjustment permits:

(a) To vary the building site area and open space regulations by not more than ten (10%) per centum.

(b) To allow towers, tanks, wires, flag poles and chimneys to be erected to any height on particular building sites.

(c) To vary other building height regulations in particular cases but not so as to increase the limit set forth by this Code by more than ten (10%) per centum.

(d) Governing the location, size and design of sub-division and directional-informational signs.

(e) To allow the construction and use of accessory buildings in front, side and rear yards or the construction and use of more than two accessory buildings on the same building site.

(f) To allow the construction and use of accessory buildings nearer to the front line of a building site than fifteen (15) feet in any of the following cases:

(i) where a dwelling constructed prior to the first day of April, 1940 is so situated on a building site that a private garage has not been, and cannot be, constructed on said building site in compliance with the front line requirements of this Code without great cost and impracticability;

(ii) where the building site has a slope greater than a one (1) foot rise in seven (7) feet of run or the topography presents other unusual or exceptional difficulties;

(iii) where the building site is not in the form of a rectangle and has an area of less than 4,000 square feet.

Section 1013. For the same reasons as set forth in Section 1012 herein and also for the purpose of providing a means of determining whether certain prescribed uses would be proper if located on particular building sites under such conditions as exist, the Board shall have the power to approve the issuance of use permits:

(a) To allow uses which are hereinbefore expressly permitted upon the issuance of such a permit.

(b) To allow necessary governmental, public utility and public service uses in any district.

(c) To allow the extension of a use into a more restricted district where the district boundary divides premises in one ownership upon the first day of April, 1940.

(d) In connection with any Architectural Conformity regulations which may hereinafter be adopted by the City Council.

(e) To extend the period during which a Non-conforming Use in any district may be discontinued without the property owner losing his right to establish such Non-conforming Use; provided, however, that the total period for which such extensions are granted shall not exceed six (6) months.

(f) To allow a private garage to be erected on a building site near, but not adjoining, the building site on which is situated the dwelling for the convenience of the occupants of which the private garage is desired.

(g) To allow buildings or building sites to be temporarily put to a use not authorized by the regulations applying to the district within which such buildings or building sites are located; provided, however, that such permits shall only be issued in the first instance for a period of ninety (90) days and shall not be extended for an additional period of more than ninety (90) days.

(h) To allow the construction and use of accessory buildings for purposes not specified by the provisions of Section 1030 of this Division.

(i) To allow the commercial excavation of natural materials.

(j) To permit the location of wholly charitable, educational or philanthropic institutions in any district.

(k) To permit the use of a parcel of land having an area of not less than four thousand (4,000) square feet, but which is not a lot of record or is not in the form of a rectangle, to be used as a building site.

ARTICLE 8. PROCEDURE.

Section 1014. Any property owner desiring to obtain an adjustment permit or a use permit shall file an application with the secretary of the Board which shall be in such form and shall contain such information as the Board may from time to time require. The secretary shall present such application to the Board at its next meeting. Such application shall be accompanied by a fee of five ($5.00) dollars. The Board may initiate a proceeding leading to the issuance of a permit by the Board and in such case no fee shall be required.

The Board shall hold a public hearing upon any application for an adjustment permit and/or a use permit. Not less than five (5) days before said public hearing, notice of such hearing shall be published at least once in the official newspaper of said City and such publication shall be required to vest the Board with jurisdiction in the matter. Within thirty (30) days after any such application has been presented to it, the Board shall approve or disapprove such application unless such time is extended by mutual agreement between the Board and the property owner. If no action is taken by the Board within said thirty (30) day period, or within such extended time as may have been agreed upon, the application shall be deemed to have been disapproved and the applicant shall thereupon have a right of appeal to the City Council in the manner hereinafter provided.

The affirmative vote of a majority of the members of the Board present at any regularly called and held meeting shall be sufficient to grant an adjustment permit except as provided in Subsection (c) of Section 1011 of this Code. No use permit shall be granted except by the affirmative vote of at least five (5) members of the Board.

At the conclusion of any such hearing, or any adjournment thereof, the Board shall render its decision in the matter and notice of its decision shall be published at least once in the official newspaper of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

The findings and actions of the Board shall be final and conclusive from and after the expiration of five (5) days from the time such notice of said decision is published, unless within said five (5) day period an appeal to the Council has been taken by the applicant or applicants, if the application was denied, or by a petition signed by not less than twenty (20) electors of said city if said application was granted.

Any such appeal must be taken by filing a notice of appeal in writing in the office of the City Clerk within five (5) days after publication of notice of said decision and such notice of appeal set forth specifically the ground or grounds upon which such appeal is taken, and the signature of at least one signer of such notice of appeal shall be verified before any person authorized under the laws of the State of California to administer oaths. Such notices of appeal shall be submitted by the City Clerk to the Council at the next regular or adjourned regular meeting thereof or special meeting thereof called for such purpose, and such Council shall thereupon fix a time for the hearing of such appeal at the Council Chambers. The City Clerk shall thereupon notify the person or persons taking such appeal of the time for such hearing at least five (5) days prior to the date thereof. Service of notice of the time of hearing may be made personally upon the appellant or appellants or by enclosure by the City Clerk, in writing, in an envelope addressed to the last known residence of said appellant or appellants, postage prepaid, and deposited in the Post Office at Carmel-by-the-Sea, California. In the event that the address of said appellant or appellants is unknown to said City Clerk the envelope addressed to such appellant or appellants may be addressed "General Delivery, Carmel-by-the-Sea, California." In the event that personal service is not obtained upon any such appellant or appellants, notice of said hearing shall be published once in the official newspaper of said city not less than five days prior to said hearing. Failure of any appellant or appellants to receive any notice of hearing of appeal deposited in the United States Mail, as aforesaid, shall in no manner effect the jurisdiction of the Council in the matter. At the time fixed for the hearing of such appeal the Council shall proceed to hear and determine the same, and may continue the hearing thereof from time to time, and the determination of said Council upon said appeal shall be final and conclusive and binding upon all concerned.

If notice of appeal has not been filed in the time, form and manner hereinbefore provided, it shall be mandatory for the Building Inspector or City Clerk to issue the permit in accordance with the findings and determination of said Board.

ARTICLE 9. RECLASSIFICATION AND AMENDMENTS.

Section 1015. The City Council, the Planning Commission or any property owner by written application to the Planning Commission may initiate proceedings for the reclassification from one District to another of any property within said City.

The procedure, where the proceedings are initiated by the owner or owners of real property, shall be as follows:

(a) The owner or owners of record of the real property sought to be reclassified shall file a letter with the secretary of the Planning Commission, indicating the change of District desired. The secretary shall present such request to the Planning Commission at its next meeting. The Planning Commission shall thereupon designate all property within the zone of interest as the same is defined in Section 1066 of this Code.

(b) The secretary shall thereupon notify the applicant or applicants of the area included in the zone of interest. The applicants may then file their formal application with the secretary requesting the reclassification desired and shall deposit with the secretary the sum of fifty ($50.00) dollars which shall be used for the purpose of paying all necessary costs of advertising, mailing of notices, and the printing of ordinances, resolutions or notices. Any portion of said sum not actually expended for the purposes herein stated shall be refunded to the applicant at the termination of the proceedings upon his filing of a verified claim therefor with the secretary.

(c) Such application shall be signed by the owner or owners of the real property sought to be reclassified and by the owner or owners of fifty (50) per centum of the area of all property situated within the zone of interest as determined upon by the Planning Commission.

(d) Such application shall also be accompanied by a map or diagram drawn to a scale of at least one (1) inch to one hundred (100) feet showing:

(i) the location and boundaries of the property sought to be reclassified;

(ii) the boundaries of the area within the zone of interest;

(iii) each individual lot or parcel of land within the zone of interest;

(iv) the district classification of each of said lots or parcels of land.

(e) At its next meeting the Planning Commission shall set a date for a public hearing upon said application. At least five (5) days prior to the date set for said hearing notice thereof shall be published once in the official newspaper of said City and written notices thereof shall be sent, with postage thereon fully prepaid, giving the time, place and purpose of the said hearing to all persons whose names appear as owners of property within the zone of interest at their addresses as the same appear on the assessment roll of said City or, if any address is unknown, in care of "General Delivery, Carmel-by-the-Sea, California." The failure of any person entitled to notice by the provisions of this Section to receive such notice shall not affect the validity of the proceedings.

At the time and place set for said hearing or at any time and place at which the same may be continued, the Planning Commission shall hear all persons interested. If necessary, the Planning Commission may, without closing the hearing, adjourn from time to time until a decision has been reached. At the conclusion of the hearing, the Planning Commission shall render its decision.

In the event the conclusion of the Planning Commission is that the application should be granted, it shall certify its findings to the City Clerk of said City. The City Clerk shall thereupon cause the recommendation of the Planning Commission to be published once in the official newspaper of said City, together with a notice that at the next regular or adjourned regular meeting of the City Council held not less than five days subsequent to the date of said publication the City Council will hold a public hearing upon the application and the recommendation of the Planning Commission at which any person or persons interested may be heard.

At the conclusion of such public hearing or any adjournment thereof, the City Council shall reach a decision in the matter.

In the event the Planning Commission concludes that the application should not be granted, its determination shall be final unless, within five (5) days after said decision was rendered, the applicants appeal to the City Council in the manner provided for appeals by the provisions of Section 1014 of this Code.

In the event proceedings for reclassification are initiated by the Planning Commission, the procedure required by the provisions of this Section, excluding the filing of an application by the property owners, but including a public hearing, publication of notice in the official newspaper, and the mailing of written notice to all owners of property within the zone of interest shall be followed.

In the event the proceedings are initiated by the City Council, no action shall be taken by the City Council until the matter has been referred to the Planning Commission for its report and recommendation made after public hearings have been held and notice given as in the case of proceedings initiated by the Planning Commission.

In any event and whether the recommendations of the Planning Commission is favorable or unfavorable, the City Council shall have the right to grant or deny the desired reclassification.

No ordinance amending this Division shall be adopted by the City Council unless and until the City Council has received the recommendations of the Planning Commission made after public hearings, publication and notice as in the case of the application for an adjustment or use permit.

SECTION 2. That all ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance be, and the same hereby are repealed.

SECTION 3. That the City Clerk of said City is hereby instructed to cause this ordinance to be published in the Official Newspaper of the said City after its final passage and approval.

CERTIFICATION OF CITY CLERK

I, the undersigned, City Clerk of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of Ordinance No. 68 N.S., which was given its first reading at a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, held on the 8th day of January 1947 and finally adopted at an adjourned meeting of the said Council on the 16th day of January 1947.

I further certify that upon its passage the foregoing Ordinance was signed by the Mayor of the said City and attested by the City Clerk thereof.

Dated this 17th day of January, 1947.

RED + NEWS

The attendance and the interest shown in the Carmel Chapter of the Red Cross, held last Thursday was surprising, inasmuch as all Red Cross activities have slowed down to a peace time basis. However, as the reports of the chairmen of the various services still functioning were read, keen interest and considerable surprise was shown in the fact that such tremendous results were shown by the few who realize that the first great challenge of the war has been met, and Red Cross is now being called up to meet a second great challenge, not only of re-adjustment and reorientation of service men and women, but the opportunities of improving community life.

Mrs. Florence Allan of Carmel Highlands graciously accepted the chapter chairmanship for the coming year. Red Cross is fortunate in having chosen so capable and efficient a chairman. Mrs. Allan was chairman of the surgical dressing unit during the war years.

Mrs. Sidney Trevvett, chairman of the nominating committee, announced the election of the new and re-elected members of the governing board. Re-elected were: Mr. John Abernathy, Mrs. C. E. Brigham, Mr. W. H. Burnham, Mrs. Kent Clark, Mrs. James Doud, Miss Hope Hasty, Mrs. W. H. Hargrave, Mr. Henry Childers, Mrs. P. H. Hudgins, Mrs. Robinson Jeffers, Miss Margaret Kilpatrick, Mrs. Ernest Morehouse, Miss Katherine Smits, Col. George Stuart, Mrs. Rush Wallace, Mrs. Henry Stuart, and Mr. Eben Whittlesey. New members elected: Mrs. Katherine Bier, Mrs. T. J. Williams, Mrs. Ferdinand Haasis, Mrs. Kent Parrott, Dr. Remsen Bird, Dr. C. N. Pearson, Mr. Frank Putnam, Mrs. Paul Flanders, Miss P. Leslie King, Dr. Helen Field, Mrs. Bernard Schulte, Mrs. Richard Collins, Mrs. G. H. Taubles, Mrs. Paul Low, Mrs. Robert Spencer, Miss Alice Cresson, and Mrs. C. W. Menzies.

Mrs. Buntie B. Thomas reported on the amazing amount of work turned out by her production corps in the Red Cross sewing room. While most of the work was in making garments for overseas relief—coats, dresses, shirts and blouses and layettes for babies, 137 pairs of cretonne curtains were completed for Fort Ord and Presidio recreation halls. In fact 4,369 articles were finished last year which required no less than 10,273 hours of work. Incidentally, Carmel Red Cross production room is the only one functioning in Monterey County.

Mrs. Rush Wallace's report on community services to camp and hospital, told of the monthly birthday parties given at Fort Ord hospital, the fishing trips, picnics and barbecues planned for the ambulatory patients, of the gifts bought and wrapped at Christmas time and of the improvised outings for the plastic patients brought down from Oak Knoll Naval Hospital.

This is one service that is definitely on the alert in its activities to keep pace with the increase in troops at Fort Ord.

Quite in line with this report was Mrs. Marcus Gregory's report on the Grey Ladies' Corps activities at Fort Ord hospital. This marvelous service which includes the "cart pushing" of books and magazines through the wards, the flower cart which delivers small bedside bouquets to each patient, the shopping service for patients and the teaching of skilled crafts to those who are interested and who are convalescing. A new class of Gray Ladies was capped in December, which augments the number to 22, a peace time high.

Mrs. Mildred Dobie, executive secretary, reported on home services activities. Mrs. Dobie brought out the fact that demands for assistance from the service connected group and their families was gradually decreasing, while requests from the civilian group was definitely increasing. In line with these developments she gave her interpretation of the responsibilities of the local Red Cross chapter as differentiated from those of other Red Cross chapters, and its obligation to continue to assume these responsibilities.

Mrs. Francis Foraker reported on one of the most important functions of the chapter, the work of Junior Red Cross. Mrs. Foraker's work in co-operation with the local schools in the overseas relief problem has been outstanding.

Miss Alice Cresson, chairman of the milk bottle fund reported humorously on the extreme difficulty of keeping milk bottles for collecting coins intact, and her efforts to keep them from being stolen. However, the "take" from the milk bottles for this year has been considerable.

A report on the Red Cross ambulance unit by Mr. Fred Mylar gave the number of calls this past year as 194. 1,065 calls have been made since this service was organized in Carmel.

All in all, the reports made an honest effort to let the community know to what use its contributions and efforts are being made.

Elliott Arnold Gets Bronze Star

Elliott Arnold, novelist, who is spending the winter in Carmel with his wife, Helen, and infant son, Thomas Guy, was presented with the Bronze Star Medal and a citation signed by General Douglas MacArthur at his house on Wednesday night, January 22. As Arnold did not want a formal presentation with official ceremonies, Major C. F. Beach drove over from Fort Ord to make the presentation informally.

The citation reads: "Captain Elliott Arnold, Air Corps, U. S. A., for meritorious achievement in connection with military operations against the enemy in the Southwest Pacific Area from 15 November 1944 to 27 March 1945. Assigned to headquarters of the Far East Air Forces, Captain Arnold displayed marked professional ability and editorial competency in the preparation of a series of articles on the activities of the Far East Air Forces and the history of the 5th and 13th Air Forces. Travelling long and hazardous routes from Australia to the Philippine Islands, he skillfully and rapidly collected information for the publication of the book, Big Distance, frequently working in forward areas subject to repeated enemy air bombardment. Through his resourcefulness, devotion to duty and exceptional literary talent, Captain Arnold made an important contribution to the history of the Far East Air Forces."

Cheers For Timothy

Coach George Mosolf and his wife are rooting for Tim as he is to be called, who was born January 25 at the Community Hospital. Now there are four little Mosolfs, Michael, age 8, who goes to Sunset School, Susan 5, who picked out Pearl Harbor Day to put in her appearance, and Patricia 2½. The Mosolfs feel that the birth of George Timothy gives them a well-balanced family. George Mosolf and his wife, who was Bess Smith, both attended Tacoma High School but Mr. Mosolf took his college degree at the University of California at Berkeley. In 1940 he came to Carmel as athletic coach, but his work was interrupted by the war, and he served four years in the Navy. He is now back at his old stand in the High School.

Wayfarer Auxilliary

Miss Pauline Mudge will give a dramatic reading at the Women's Auxilliary of the Church of the Wayfarer on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Mudge also is training the young people of the church in the two short plays which they are giving tomorrow night at the Green Room on Casanova street. Music for the auxilliary program will be given by Corporal William Lewis of Fort Ord. He will sing Negro spirituals. The program begins at 1:45.

Members of the group that make bandages for lepers will begin their work at 10:30, and will be joined by the rest of the membership for a box lunch at 12:30, after which Mrs. Tom Douglas, the president, will conduct the short business meeting.

Grace Howden Home

Mrs. Grace Howden, who went to Seattle to spend the holidays with her mother, Mrs. M. N. Carmen, was detained there by the serious illness of Mrs. Carmen but has now returned to Carmel, and hopes in the near future her mother will be able to join her here. Mrs. Howden's old friend, Mrs. Gwendolyn Geary Ruge, is now occupying Mrs. Howden's studio apartment. She is a gifted singer and will be here for several months.

B and P Women's Club

Regular meeting of the Monterey Business and Professional Women's Club was held last Thursday at the House of Four Winds where dinner was served. Laura Hardy and Katherine Ragsdale were responsible for the artistic decorations and Mrs. Lillian Spangler, club chairman of public affairs, arranged the program. Following introduction of members and their guests by President Harriett Coombs, Miss Ida Best sang several solos, playing her own accompaniments. Mrs. Spangler then introduced Mr. Clyde A. Dorsey, speaker of the evening, who outlined the master plan, produced in 1940, a long range project for future development and beautification of Monterey. He spoke of harbor development, the new library, Fisherman's Wharf, and Monterey's many parks, widening of avenues and an attractive entrance to the city. Group singing was led by song leader Gertrude Ernst, accompanied by Ida Best.

Honolulu Wedding

In the garden of the Honolulu beach home of Mrs. Harry M. Field, mother of the groom, Lila Whitaker of Carmel became the bride of Edward K. Kawanakoa on December 22. The bride chose for her wedding gown white crepe with a boat neckline, long fitted sleeves and a train. She wore a finger tip veil and carried white orchids and camellias. William H. Albee, a cousin who formerly lived in Carmel but is now a resident of Honolulu, gave the bride away.

Leading the bridal procession was Miss Keakaulike Kawanakoa, a cousin of the bridegroom, followed by the Misses Kapiolani and Poomaikalani Kawanakoa, sisters of the bridegroom, all gowned in white silk holokus and wearing white carnation leis.

Mrs. Clarence Whitaker, Lila's mother, flew to the Islands for the wedding. She wore a green afternoon gown and a corsage of green orchids. Afterward a wedding reception was held, attended by representatives of the old island families. Hawaiian singers and dancers entertained the guests during the reception.

Lila Whitaker grew up in Carmel, attending Sunset and High School here, and was employed in the Bank of Carmel at the time her engagement was announced. Edward K. Kawanakoa is the son of Mrs. Harry Field, who was Kapiolani Kawanakoa, and the grandson of the late Prince and Princess Kawanakoa. He was an Army Air Corps pilot during the war.

From Marin County

Miss Kay Lawlor and Mrs. Marie Russell have recently come to Carmel from San Anselmo and have bought a home at Carpenter and Fifth street. Kay Lawlor did newspaper writing in Marin County, where she worked on a number of papers, and was the author of a history of Marin County, which appeared as a column in the San Anselmo Herald. She is also an enthusiastic golfer. She won a championship at the Marin Golf and Country Club, and was also woman champion of the North Bay Country Club.

Symphony Rehearsal

Rehearsals of the Regional Symphony orchestra, which are held every Monday evening at the High School, are attracting audiences that prove to be stimulating to the players. No admission is charged and all interested are welcome. The orchestra is rehearsing Beethoven's First Symphony. Violin and cello players are urged to join. Among those present last Monday were Dr. and Mrs. F. V. Randol, Noel Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Zenas Potter, Mr. and Mrs. John Westover, Mrs. Grace Howden, Mrs. Gwendolyn Ruge and Miss Elsa Blackman.

Woman's Club News

Schedules of the Carmel Woman's Club programs have been shifted for the month of February. The general meet, which is usually held on the first Monday, will be on the third Monday and the Book Section takes over Monday, February 3, with Mrs. L. A. Williams discussing "The Amazing Mr. Galsworthy." Mrs. Williams is a favorite speaker with club members as she has given talks on gardening and other subjects. She will give an analysis of Galsworthy's work as well as a character sketch of the author. Mrs. Williams is a Ph. D. and wife of L. A. Williams, retired professor, who is a member of the Carmel school board.

Women Voters Conference

Mrs. Thor Hellum, president of the Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters, Mrs. J. M. Rigdon and Miss L. L. Turner, board members, drove to San Francisco Monday to attend a conference on L. W. V. standards and methods of work, with Mrs. Charles E. Heming, member of the national board of the organization and formerly president of the New York City League. Mrs. Heming has held important committee memberships for civic and educational improvement and has long been active in league affairs. This was one of a number of conferences for local board members and was held at the Women's City Club with representatives from the San Francisco, Palo Alto, Marin county as well as Monterey Peninsula in attendance.

Will See Ballet

June Delight and Mrs. Carol Edwards, with Ladisla Narvaez and Patsy Canoles, leave for San Francisco the first of the week. Ladisla and Patsy expect to do some work at the San Francisco Ballet school and they are all looking forward to seeing the Ballet Russe. June Delight dancers have been busy the last week or two giving programs at the U. S. O. in Monterey, the hospital at Fort Ord, and at Service Club No. 1.

Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Fonteneau celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary Friday afternoon at their home on San Carlos and Eleventh street. Their daughters, Edith Marie Benson and Patricia Louise Lamb, furnished a program of vocal and instrumental music, and their two grandchildren, Charles Raymond Benson and Patricia Louise Lamb, added much enjoyment to the occasion. Yellow marigolds overflowed a large pottery bowl on a table lit by gold candles, and when the wedding cake was brought in, trimmed with white roses and candy pearls, with "thirty" written across its frosty top, Mrs. Fonteneau cut it as she did the one so many years ago. Mr. Fonteneau, now retired, was one of the first engineers in the state highway department. Only the immediate family was present at the celebration, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Benson and son, Charles, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Lamb Jr., and daughter, Patricia.

Clothing Drive Success

Some of the ill-clad and shivering unfortunates in Europe will be happier and more comfortable as a result of the clothing drive sponsored by the Altar Society of the Carmel Mission Parish. Over 1,200 pounds of clothing were brought to Crespi Hall in two weeks, and last Friday they were sorted, packed, labeled and sent off to the Catholic Charities in Europe. Mrs. E. W. L. Franklin, Mrs. Elsa Martinez, and Miss Harriet Dean sorted and packed while Mr. Franklin made the 28 cartons ready for shipping. It was hard work, but a labor of love and satisfaction because the quality of clothing was exceptional. Every garment was whole, clean and warm. Shoes were practically new. These things will be distributed to those whose need is greatest, regardless of church affiliations. The drive was instituted by the National Catholic Welfare Center and was nation wide.

Canoes Honored

John Canoles has been invited to attend the managers convention of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in New York because of his record since his discharge from the Navy, in which he served for four years. He expects to be gone two weeks, coming home by way of New Orleans and taking in the Mardi Gras.

Meeting Postponed

The Carmel American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 512 will postpone their next regular monthly meeting until February 18, in order to have the district president, Mrs. Bessie McKinney, present. A dinner is being planned and several new members will be initiated.

Wanted Cook

When Cheryl Ann Cook gave her first cry at the Community Hospital, January 27, her mother decided she knew what the trouble was, and told her new daughter that her father was way off in Korea, where he is a Captain in the U. S. Army. Mrs. Cook is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cook of Carmel and is living with her parents. She is a graduate of San Jose State College. Captain Cook hails from Alabama. They have another small daughter, Marsha Dee.

Outgrew Scout Stage

Two plays will be given tomorrow night at 8 p. m. at the Green Room by members of the Youth Fellowship of the Church of the Wayfarer. Originally, the plays were to be given at the Girl Scout House but two six foot actors in the cast bumped their heads on the ceiling, while two or three steps found them out of sight in the wings so they moved to larger quarters. Peace I Give Unto You, a one act play, directed by Pauline Mudge, will be acted by Barbara Stoney, Hugo Bedau, Landis Crosby, Carrol Briggs and Ben Viljoen. The second offering, Twice Darkened Hours, written and produced by Miss Mudge is a decided innovation. Cast includes Willette Torras, Barbara Stoney, Peggy Riker, Betty Bell, Harry Watson, Nancy Watson, Hugo Bedau and Landis Crosby. KDON has made a transcription and it was written and will be given to the audience as a radio-play. This group sponsored by Miss Naomi Fletcher is a very active organization. A silver offering will be taken to defray the expenses of the entertainment.

Ohio Silvas Here

Mr. and Mrs. Abbott Silva of Cleveland, Ohio, have arrived in Carmel and are occupying their home on North Carmelo street, where they expect to be until March. Mr. and Mrs. Silva return frequently to visit Mr. Silva's father, William Silva, one of Carmel's well-known artists. They first came on their honeymoon, after being married in Montana, where Abbott Silva was in the forestry service and Gladys Heyward of Ohio was attending college. From time to time they come back and Mr. Silva admits that he would like to stay. They were here in 1942 when their son, Bill, attended Carmel High School where he played basketball. Bill was in the Navy as an ensign during the war and is now a senior at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and Abbott Jr., who served in the army is married and has an eight-months-old baby. Mrs. Silva is active in literary circles in Cleveland, vice-president of the Writers' club and press relations chairman of the Shaker chapter of the D. A. R. Mr. Silva, a tree expert, operates the Silva Tree Care Company in Cleveland.

Sixty Birthdays In One Party

Carmel Red Cross Council for Community Service to Camps and Hospitals gave sixty boys a grand time last Thursday evening when it staged a birthday party for them at Fort Ord Regional Hospital.

Through the particular efforts of Mrs. T. J. Williams, chairman of this service, an atmosphere of a personal party was achieved. The sixty guests of honor and their 250 friends from the wards gathered in the hospital auditorium to enjoy the June Delight dancers, who staged a fast moving show that was highly popular.

Allan Knight and his band furnished the music for dancing, and Mrs. Francis Foraker gathered a group of young women from Carmel who made most attractive dancing partners.

Mrs. R. R. Wallace, co-ordinator for the council, presented the birthday boys with gifts, and cut the huge birthday cake for them.

Mrs. George Burton and Mrs. Edward Martin presided at the attractive table where coffee, sandwiches and cake were served. They were assisted by Mrs. Marcus Gregory, Mrs. Peggy Dyer, Miss Flora Stewart, and Miss Helen Heavey.

Flies From Oklahoma

Mrs. Ella Shives of Bristow, Oklahoma, mother of Mrs. W. P. Wettengel, is returning Sunday to Carmel, where she lived with her daughter during the war while Mr. Wettengel was in the army. Mrs. Wettengel will leave tomorrow to meet her mother, who is flying from Oklahoma, and they will arrive here by plane from Los Angeles. Mrs. Shives was delayed for two weeks owing to sub-zero weather as she did not relish a flight with ice on the wings.

Son For Berringers

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Berringer of Larea Lane, Carmel, were very satisfied with a little boy that arrived at the Community Hospital January 24, and have named him Burton Michael.

In FORTIER'S on Ocean Avenue at Dolores you'll find a good value in Dorothy Gray's Blustery Weather lotion which goes on sale just as chapping winds come down the coast. The Blustery Weather lotion comes in a giant bottle, a two dollar size, which sells for one dollar. It is recommended to help in preventing and relieving chapped skin. It's a good after shaving lotion and powder base. Try using it and maybe you'll be so soft-skinned and delectable someone will send you a beautiful lace trimmed valentine—from FORTIER'S.

MAXINE'S on Dolores has received a new shipment of the handsome Weathermaster raincoats—which are likely to turn up as casual coats or even as coat dresses. They're wonderful rain coats, being cut loosely enough to go over suits or coats, and their Zelan water-repellent finish is guaranteed to last through six dry-cleanings. The gabardine material is woven closely enough to keep out the wind, too. They are made with concealed buttons down the front and a comfortable yoke-cape shoulder treatment in basic colors—gray, beige, black and aqua.

THE SILVER THIMBLE on Dolores south of Ocean is having a sale which means you can buy delectable night gowns, robes and other lingerie at a great saving. There are some nylon robes and quilted cotton housecoats you would do well to look into.

"California By the Yard" is the slogan for the Hoffman California Woolens newly arrived at PUTNAM AND RAGGETT on Ocean Avenue. The colors of the material come from California's mountains, trees, deserts and seas. There's a wonderful yellow woolen striped with russet earthcolor and a red and green woolen like young wheat on red ground. Each of the plaids and striped materials has a matching solid color, from which you can build up a striking ensemble. These are perfect for Carmel, warm, light, firm, colorful fabrics.

THE VILLAGE CORNER next to the Post Office on Dolores is primarily a soda fountain but you can also enjoy excellent coffee, sandwiches, salads and ice cream there, and while you sit comfortably warmed, the whole Village passes by the wide windows. THE VILLAGE CORNER'S ice cream is something special. It is hand-packed and sold by weight in order that when you buy ice cream to take out you receive full measure. It's a sundae you're wanting, you can mix your own from a great variety of syrups and trimmings set before you, and you may buy the syrups to take home. For a regular sundae delectable either in public or private, such as a strawberry, marshmallow, chocolate nut concoction, see THE VILLAGE CORNER.

Maybe she can't bake a cherry pie, Billy Boy, put if she knows the way to THE DOLORES GROCERY she can always buy one frozen, ready to take home and pop into the oven. THE DOLORES GROCERY has the exclusive agency in Carmel for these frozen, ready-to-bake pies, biscuits and rolls. There's mince, boysenberry, cherry, apple, peach and apricot pie, clover leaf and cinnamon raisin rolls, baking powder biscuits, pecan party cookies, all carefully made and packaged and quick-frozen. They may be baked at once, without any defrosting, or they may be stored awhile. Full directions are on each package.

If you've been waiting five years to replace or round out your dinner service GUMPS on Dolores has good news for you. Fine china from Spode, Lennox, Royal Doulton, Haviland and Crown Derby is now available through GUMPS. Some of it is in stock and the rest of it may be ordered. They have some beautiful new patterns and the best of the classic ones.

THE WURZMANN TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE on Alvarado street in Monterey has bright valentines for every intensity of affection and every degree of relationship. There's a beautiful valentine with a fat red plush heart, surrounded with lace and tulle, to carry a heavy burden of feeling and there are others in a comic vein. You should look at the note paper too, for an original idea in a valentine gift. WURZMANN has brilliantly red note paper to use for valentine letters.

You're welcome to go in to LIAL'S MUSIC SHOP on Monte Verde and Ocean to listen to the new Magnavox Moderne which plays your records with a new depth and beauty. The same excellent phonograph radio combination by Magnavox is available in a variety of cabinets—the Provincial which combines beautifully finished wood with handsome antiqued brass fittings, the Regency model in light oak and the Belvedere in mahogany.

THE STOCKING SHOP in the Golden Bough Court across from the Pine Inn on Ocean Avenue has in addition to their fine nylons a new shipment of socks for children and babies. The baby socks are of fine mercerized cotton with scalloped edges to the tops in pink, blue and white, and the larger children's socks come in a ribbed top style in assorted colors and in a heavier style with an elasticized cuff top that should be excellent for school. Sizes run from 6 to 8½.

THE HOUSE OF HANSEL AND GRETEL on Ocean Avenue has made up winning boxes of combinations of their small candies which they call Hostess Boxes. Filled with a bridge mix, small gumdrops, chocolate covered almonds or deliciously tart fruit sticks, these boxes will be ideal for bridge parties or bridge prizes or a gift to your hostess. There's a child's box too, filled with satiny fruit tapers and twists made from pure sugar and pure fruit flavors. Both the Hostess Box and the child's box are packed in the beautiful Sweet Treat boxes characteristic of HANSEL AND GRETEL'S fine candy.

You can prance along most proudly regardless of mud and rain if you have a pair of neat rubber boots from THE PIONEER on Dolores next to the Post Office. Boots for young misses come in sizes 1 and 2 and 12½ and 13 in black and brown rubber with a light woolly lining and an ankle strap for neatness of fit. The boots come also in ladies' sizes and there is one style with a Talon zipper. As for galoshes THE PIONEER has them in all sizes.

Nurses' Meeting

The regular business meeting of the Monterey County Nurses' Association, district 26, will be held Wednesday, February 5, at 8:15 p. m., at Tranquil Pine, the residence of Bea Torres, R. N., on Guadalupe street between Fourth and Fifth.

Son For Allen Wood

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wood of Hillsborough on January 27. The new arrival weighed six and one-half pounds. His mother was Betty Clay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Clay of Hillsborough. Allen is the son of Mrs. Helene Wood, Carmel. He was raised here, attended Carmel schools, and served in the Merchant Marine during the war.

USO Dinner Honoring Hostesses

There was a big dinner last night at the El Estero USO Club in Monterey honoring the hostesses who have so generously given their time to the USO. Those who received 5000 hour pins were Mrs. J. H. Bastedo, Mrs. A. S. Fowler, Mrs. Happy Boyce Parker, Miss Catharine Juhl, Mrs. J. B. Wilbur, Mrs. Hugh Dormody, and Mrs. Charles C. Shepard. Mrs. H. J. Leppert was presented with a 4000 hour pin. Six received 3000 hour pins, three received 2000 hour pins, nineteen received 1000 hour pins, twenty received 500 hour pins, and seven received 300 hour pins. In addition, there were thirty-two hostesses who were presented with 100 hour pins.

Many organizations and individuals received certificates for meritorious services and honorable mention.

Auntie Burton 101

In her room at the Hospital Annex, Mrs. Mary Garrens Burton, known to Carmel as Auntie Burton, observed her one hundred and first birthday anniversary Tuesday. Her room was filled with flowers and gifts brought by friends whom Auntie Burton received all day, looking quite perky in a pink quilted bed jacket with a bow in her hair. Her dimming eyes find the world in turmoil as it was when she opened them in Canada a century ago. Europe then had been shaken by the French Revolution, young Queen Victoria found the middle classes stirring ominously, with the Duke of Wellington remarking he had never seen so many shocking bad hats, as he looked over Parliament. In the United States, the Mexican war was over and the United States had acquired Texas and California. She had not begun to walk when gold was discovered in California. Then Louis Phillipe was swept out of France and the Second Republic came into being. The people were on the march as they are today. Metternich went into eclipse. This country began fumblingly to feel its way toward greatness. The first freight train lumbered along on ten miles of track into Chicago. Elias Howe invented the sewing machine. So it was in the beginning of Auntie Burton's life and in her hundred years she has seen the first of all the miracles we have today. Auntie Burton came to Carmel twenty years ago when she was a mere chick of eighty. Among those who came to offer congratulations were Pop Smith, who is recuperating at the Annex. Pop arrived early, playing Tom Brennaman as he presented his orchid. Among others who called during the day were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hardyman who came from La Cresta for the occasion, Mrs. D. E. Nixon, Mrs. William A. Townsend, Miss Celia Seymour, Barbara J. Hampton, Mrs. L. S. Goddard, Mrs. John M. Dickinson, Mrs. N. McGinty, Mrs. R. VandenBergh, Miss Patricia VandenBergh, Mrs. Florence W. Parker, Maitland Hardman, Mrs. D. C. Lockwood, and Miss Helen Huff, niece of Mrs. Burton who came from San Francisco.

Women Voters Study Groups

The International Relations section of the League of Women Voters will meet on Thursday afternoon, February 6, at 2:30, at the home of Mrs. Ferdinand Haasis on Torres at Eighth street. Quarter hour reports will be given on U. N. E. S. C. O. by Mrs. Anita Wainwright; atomic energy control, Mrs. Paul Low; achievements of U. N. Security Council, Mrs. Howard Clark; world government, pro and con opinions, Mrs. Haasis. Discussion will follow the reports.

The section studying the Central Valley Project will meet on Friday, February 7—instead of on the 14th—in the lobby of La Ribera hotel on Lincoln street. Further information on the Reclamation department ruling of 160-acre limitation to irrigation allowed to one individual will be presented, with arguments for and against it. Mrs. Perry Newberry is leader of the group.

Carmel Missionary Society

Sixty dollars was contributed to missionary activities on the peninsula and in Arizona during the fall and early winter by the Carmel Missionary Society, Miss Mary Barnes, treasurer, reported at the meeting on Tuesday afternoon at All Saints' Church. Of this, twenty dollars went to the aid of Hay's Chapel in Seaside, through the Council of Church Women, and sixty dollars went to the mission school and religious work carried on by the Reverend and Mrs. Stokeley among the Navajos at Oraibi, Arizona. The society includes members from All Saints' and the Church of the Wayfarer, with a co-chairman from each. Mrs. J. W. Dickinson conducted the meeting.

Mrs. D. E. Nixon reported on the sending of more than 400 pounds of bandages and clothing to the American Mission to Lepers headquarters in New York for distribution to countries where need exists, and told of the making of bandages over about twenty years by the local group, to be sent to China, Africa, and other mission stations. Mrs. Dickinson announced the World Day of Prayer observance to be held at the Baptist Church in Pacific Grove on February 21. Mrs. R. Ellis Roberts gave the devotions, reading a meditation of spiritual significance.

Mrs. Dickinson then presented the Reverend Alfred B. Seccombe, pastor of the church, who spoke of the importance of missions to those who give as much as to the recipients of the service.

Youth Fellowship

Last Sunday the Youth Fellowship of the Church of the Wayfarer discussed the question, "Does Carmel have sufficient recreational facilities for young people," at their weekly town meeting discussion, which was followed by a party at the home of Jackie and Carroll Briggs. Other activities of the month have been a roller skating party at Pacific Grove Roller Rink and rehearsals for two plays to be given at the Scout House tonight at 8:00 o'clock. This Sunday's regular 5 p. m. meeting will be devoted to a recreational talk by Dr. Howard Elton Clark.

Tea For Betty Wheeler

Mrs. Vera Peck Millis and her daughter, Martha (Mrs. S. L. Williams), will entertain at an informal tea at their home in the valley next Monday, honoring Betty Wheeler, whose marriage will take place in February. Miss Jean Morning, Betty's future sister-in-law, who will arrive from Los Angeles the last of this week, will also be an honor guest. It will be a mother and daughter affair—those invited being friends of Mrs. Millis and Martha.

A Daughter For Clancy

Born in Palo Alto last week to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Page was a daughter, Jeffery Ann Page. Mrs. Page, the former Clancy Jefferys of Palo Alto, has spent a great deal of time in Carmel visiting her aunt, Marie Short, and cousins, John, Bill, Kraig, and Eric. Her mother, Mrs. Louis Jefferys, is Marie Short's sister.

Audubon Field Trip

The Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society will hold its February field trip next Sunday, February 2, at Los Banos. Members will leave Carmel about 4:00 a. m. and will meet for breakfast at Tiny's Restaurant in Los Banos. From there, at eight o'clock, the entire group will set out to observe birds under the leadership of Laidlaw Williams. Those wishing transportation should contact Miss Florence Morrow, Carmel 611, between one and two o'clock any week day.

Gallery Tea February 9

The Carmel Art Association is planning another of its Sunday afternoon teas in connection with the opening of the new show, as announced today by Mrs. Rama D. Stearns, general chairman of the entertainment committee. Ordinarily, these teas have been held on the day the new show at the Gallery opens, but due to the fact that so many peninsula people are planning to attend the Duranty-Knickerbocker debate Sunday, the tea will be held on February 9 from 3 to 5, a week after the show opens. The general public is invited.

Annual Scout Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fratessa and Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Irwin represented Carmel district at the annual anniversary dinner of the Monterey Bay Area Boy Scout Council held last Friday in the Rio Del Mar Country Club at Aptos. More than three hundred Scouters and their wives, representing nine districts, were present, and the affair was much enjoyed. After dinner John Grau of Salinas received the Silver Beaver award presented by the Mayor of Salinas, George Taylor, for "outstanding service to boyhood on a council basis." Dancing started at 9 o'clock with Eddie Murphy's orchestra from San Francisco furnishing the music.

Monday Bridge

Enthusiastic bridge players gathered around 16 tables at the Girl Scout House on Monday. Mrs. Anne Vaughan, who is chairman of the bridge section of the Woman's Club, had as her hostesses, Mrs. Ida La Puelle, Mrs. R. E. Foster, Mrs. H. G. Thompson, and Mrs. W. A. Brickner. Colorful Mexican decorations created an interesting effect through the use of an old serape on the wall, and red hot poker for floral arrangements.

Plans Under Way For Carmel Valley Fire Department

"It's like a wagon wheel," Mr. Koch said, "You have to put the hub in the middle. That's why we picked out Robles del Rio, where it will be centrally located." There are 161 houses in Robles del Rio alone at the present time, and within two years there may be at least 5,000 people in the Carmel Valley, he added.

"There's a great fire hazard in the Carmel Valley," Koch said, "and we've needed a fire department for a long time."

However, it may be some time before the project is straightened out and gotten under way, he stressed. "We're getting bids on the fire engines, and getting the lot cleaned up. Then we have to work out the question of how to finance it. Part of it will be paid for by County funds, but the rest may have to come through a bond issue."

The Monterey County Board of Supervisors will discuss the matter Monday at their meeting in Salinas, when the question of incorporating a new Carmel Valley fire district will be brought up before them.

Organized on the same plan as the Carmel Highlands fire department, all firemen will be volunteers except for one experienced paid fireman who will be on call all the time. They haven't picked out their fire chief yet. They are planning to purchase only one fire engine at first but will build the fire house with an eye to the future purchase of a second engine in case increased population in the Carmel Valley makes it necessary.

In addition to George Koch, the other commissioners are William Wood and William Plackman. Wood is also on the board of directors of the Improvement Club. Their next meeting will be held on February 11, when they will discuss organization and financing and hope to get the project definitely under way.

The Robles del Rio Improvement Club is also busy modifying some proposed zoning ordinances affecting Robles del Rio. The Monterey County Planning Commission submitted a zoning plan to them some months ago, George Koch said, but "some of the zoning wouldn't apply to Robles del Rio." The Planning Commission gave the Improvement Club permission to submit a modified plan more suitable to the area.

The zoning question will come up before the meeting of the County Board of Supervisors Monday in Salinas, at the same time the fire department project is discussed.

High School "Snack" Program Benefits Underweights

Ninety per cent of the Carmel High School students participating in a special nutrition program for underweight students have gained an average of four pounds each, it was announced by the faculty health committee this week.

Following the annual physical examination this year, the school doctor submitted a list of the names of thirty-five underweight students to the health committee, with the recommendation that they receive additional nourishment during the day.

Special passes were issued to the underweight students, permitting them to leave their classes for a fifteen minute nutrition period during the morning without interrupting class schedules. Snacks vary from rolls and milk to milkshakes, and several students have reached normal weight and been allowed to drop the class.

Holyoakes Honeymoon Here

De Forest Holyoake and his bride, the former Marcie Ann Mills, are spending a four weeks' honeymoon at Manana Lodge Cottage on Camino Real. The wedding took place in Beverly Hills, the home of the bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Quinn Mills. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Birkett Holyoake of Piedmont, who also spent their honeymoon, twenty-eight years ago, in Carmel with Mrs. Signor in the old Jorgenson home, which is now La Playa Hotel, and have been coming to Carmel for summers ever since.

During the war, while De Forest Holyoake was serving as a lieutenant in the Navy, he carried redwood seedlings with him on his ship and planted them in the Pacific islands as living memorials to the American boys who had lost their lives there. Last reports on the trees were that they were adapting themselves to the conditions of the islands and were thriving.

EDMOND FLEMING FINED $200

Edmond Fleming of Pebble Beach was fined $200 when he appeared before Judge George P. Ross, January 29, on a traffic charge.

On the previous night, when Hampton S. Stewart Jr., of San Antonio and Second, was coming out of the Pebble Beach gate he saw a car coming up the wrong side of the street. He pulled off the road and blew his horn, but the car kept coming and struck him. The car belonged to Edmond Fleming, and police found that Fleming was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident.

Anne Fisher Talks On New Novel

Ann B. Fisher, who is working on a new novel, a story of the California Gold Rush, will give an informal talk at the Fort Ord Central Service Club library next Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Fisher, a Pacific Grove resident, is the author of Cathedral in the Sun, Salinas, and No More a Stranger.

Timothy Fisher

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Fisher of Tularcitos Ranch in the Carmel Valley died Tuesday night at a local hospital. His name was Timothy.

Services were held yesterday at the El Estero Chapel in Monterey, followed by interment in the Monterey city cemetery.

Getting Around The Peninsula

(Continued from Page Four) for it, she explained. She said she was going to go get a ladder and fetch it down.

"Oh please don't do that," the Fosters cried. "We'll help you get it down later, but haven't time to stop now."

On their way back, however, they saw a ladder standing against the tree and no woman and no cat. They rightly concluded that somehow or other she had managed to climb up there and bring the creature down.

Sure enough, pussy turned up at their house where it has been living ever since, eating the food that belongs to their own cat. A sly creature with an evident sense of guilt, it resembles a pinto horse, and the Fosters are hoping that somebody will turn up and claim it—real soon.

Mrs. Barbour's Tea

Mrs. L. W. Glazebrooke was the inspiration for an informal tea given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Irwin Barbour. Mrs. Glazebrooke is the bride of Colonel L. W. Glazebrooke. Mrs. Barbour was assisted by Mrs. F. J. Nicholas. Mrs. J. O. Handley and Mrs. W. J. Herlihy who poured at the tea table, gay with tulips and lit by candles.

Elizabeth Hirschy

Mrs. Elizabeth Hirschy, the widow of the late Charles Hirschy, died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edna McDonald, of Lincoln and Twelfth streets in Carmel. A well known New Monterey resident, she had been living with her daughter for the last year and a half and was 87 years old at the time of her death.

She was a native of Perth, Australia, and leaves in addition to her daughter, Mrs. Edna McDonald of Carmel, another daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Ebersole of San Francisco; her son, Clarence W. Hirschy of Tacoma, Washington, and nine grandchildren: Alba Cruzen of Idaho; Bruce, Gale, John and Clarence Hirschy of Tacoma; and Brice, Donovan, Paul and Elinore McDonald of Carmel; and two great-grandchildren, Debbie and Stella Cruzen of Idaho.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow afternoon at the Paul Chapel in Pacific Grove, with the Rev. Albert E. Clay officiating. Interment will be in the family plot at El Carmelo Cemetery.
